

What Would Alice Paul Do?

Melissa Currence and Amy Hjerstedt co-host a new podcast about demystifying what it means to be part of the League of Women Voters.

On What Would Alice Paul Do? Podcast, they share stories, tips and how-tos to make sure you have the tools and confidence to actively engage your community.

At www.alicepaulpodcast.com listen to the podcasts and view accompanying materials.

Listen to the podcasts as you would the radio!

- 1 Episode 1: Lobbying versus Advocacy
Listen to our first episode about the difference between lobbying and advocacy!
- 2 Episode 2: Real Stories of Leadership Development
In this episode, we share personal stories of leadership development in the League of Women Voters.
- 3 Episode 3: The Value of Nonpartisanship in a Polarizing World
In episode 3, we talk about the value of nonpartisanship in a polarizing world and answer a listener question.
- 4 Episode 4: Engaging New Volunteers
In episode 4, we talk about engaging new volunteers in person and online and we share a League of Women Voters activist alert.
- 5 Episode 5: Fundraising for Your Cause Part 1
In Episode 5, we discuss fundraising in the League of Women Voters in this first part of a two-part series, and we share an activist alert and a book recommendation.
- 6 Episode 6: Fundraising for Your Cause Part 2
In this supersized episode, we talk about raising funds for your League of Women Voters projects, specifically, the how-tos of how to make it rain money! We also have a special guest, LWVUS Board member, Kim Lauth.
- 7 In episode 7, we smash through the League of Women Voters terms so you are in the know and fully participate in League activities and leadership! We also share an activist alert.
- 8 Episode 8: A Deep Dive into Voter Registration Drives
In episode 8 of the What Would Alice Paul Do? Podcast, we go in-depth about running voter registration projects and the importance of National Voter Registration Day, and we share an activist alert.