

Legislation Summary:

Bill#: H.536/S.318

Chief Sponsor(s): Senator Liz Miranda and Representative Sam Montañó

What the bill does, why LWVMA supports or opposes it, and the League position relative to this bill.

The goal of this bill is to improve educational outcomes for Indigenous youth enrolled in MA public schools by forming a commission to study the issues affecting this segment of the population and proposing recommendations—with specific attention to the inclusion of Indigenous voices. From MassTrac: Adds a new Section 159A to GL Chapter 6 to establish a 17-member permanent commission on American Indian and Alaska Native education; articulates the qualifications and terms of commission members; directs the commission to investigate the use of resources from both the public and private sectors to enhance and improve the ability of state agencies to provide educational opportunities and improve educational outcomes for all American Indian and Alaska Native students in order to further tribal self-determination and to help ensure that students have an opportunity to learn their heritage languages and histories and to receive complete and competitive educations that prepare them for college, careers, and productive satisfying lives; requires the commission to file an annual report with the legislature.

League Positions:

In September 2021, LWVUS issued guidance for culturally inclusive history curriculum to guide advocacy relating to history education.

An inclusive environment ensures equitable access to resources and opportunities for all. It also enables individuals and groups to feel safe, respected, engaged, motivated, and valued for who they are and for their contributions toward organizational and societal goals.

While an inclusive group is by definition diverse, a diverse group is not always inclusive. Being aware of unconscious or implicit bias can help organizations better address issues of inclusivity. (The Anti-Defamation League defines implicit bias as, “the unconscious attitudes and stereotypes and unintentional actions (positive or negative) toward members of a group merely because of their membership in that group.”)

We commit to making deliberate efforts to ensure LWV is a place where differences are welcomed, different perspectives are respectfully heard, and every individual feels a sense of belonging and inclusion. We know that by creating a vibrant climate of inclusiveness, we can more effectively leverage our resources to advance our collective capabilities.

We commit to working actively to challenge and respond to bias, harassment, and discrimination.

The League supports the teaching of a culturally inclusive history curriculum that includes instruction in Black, brown, Indigenous, Latinx, Asian, Feminist, and Queer American history. This stance is grounded in several of the League’s official positions and in our Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion policy:

1. Equality of Opportunity
 1. Education, Employment, and Housing: Support [federal] efforts to prevent and/or remove discrimination in education, employment and housing and to help communities bring about racial integration of their school systems.
 2. The programs should be nondiscriminatory with provisions for enforcement.
2. Federal Role in Public Education
 1. The League believes that an equitable, quality public education is critical for students.
 2. Support federal policies that provide an equitable, quality public education for all children pre-K through grade 12.
3. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Policy: LWV is an organization fully committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion in principle and in practice. Diversity, equity, and inclusion are central to the organization’s current and future success in engaging all individuals, households, communities, and policy makers in creating a more perfect democracy. There shall be no barriers to full participation in this organization on the basis of gender, gender identity, ethnicity, race, native or indigenous origin, age, generation, sexual orientation, culture, religion, belief system, marital status, parental status, socioeconomic status, language, accent, ability status, mental health, educational level or background, geography, nationality, work style, work experience, job role function, thinking style, personality type, physical appearance, political perspective or affiliation and/or any other characteristic that can be identified as recognizing or illustrating diversity.
